H. BAUMGARTN'R
KILLED BY AUTO
HIT-RUN DRIVER

Henry Baumgartner, 70, well known cattle buyer of Frankfort for many years, suffered fatal injuries last Saturday evening in Chicago Heights when he was hit by a hit-and-run driver.

While no one really saw the accident, two men, Angelo Julian of 188 E. 25th street and M. W. Dyson, 1132 Union avenue, Chicago Heights stated they saw an auto going south on Halsted street at a high rate of speed and make a right turn into Hickory street, followed by a loud noise. They watched the car go west on Hickory street. They summoned the police, who, from the tire marks and position of the body thought that Mr. Baumgartner was crossing the street from north to south. The accident occurred about 11:38 p. m.

Mr. Baumgartner was removed to St. James hospital where he died at 5:20 Sunday morning.

A coroner's jury at the inquest held in Chicago Heights Monday determined that death was caused by a hit and run driver and recommended that if they are apprehended, they be charged with reckless homicide.

Mr. Baumgartner, who was born February 29, 1881 in Frankfort township, where he lived for many years until he moved to Chicago Heights where he lived alone at 1922 Halsted street.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Gladys White in Calif., two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Wischover, Frankfort and Mrs. John Yunker, Orland, and a brother John in Frankfort.

USE TORCH TO FREE CAT TRAPPED IN AUTO FRAME

A car belonging to William Schuldt, Front street, Mokena, has just had an experience away and beyond what most cars ever have, and here is a story for Ripley.

Well, the Schuldt's were repeatedly hearing a cat meowing in their car over a period of two days, and finally dismissed as fantastic the idea that they were "hearing things".

During this two-day period Mr. Schuldt had driven to Joliet and quite a little around Mokena, and as the meowing persisted from time to time and unquestionably originated in the car, it was decided to give the automobile a thorough overhauling. This was done, but still there was no answer to the strange meowings that seemed to come from nowhere.

Completely baffled, Mr. Schuldt finally took the car over to the Cooper & Hostert garage in Mokena. "Yes, there was a cat somewhere in the car," was the consensus of opinion after all the men in the garage had strained their ears to hear the strange meowings.

The noise was finally traced to a bar in the rear housing member of the car frame, and it was agreed that the only way the creature could have gotten in there was from beneath the car. It must have gone in on the right side of this frame, where there is an opening beneath the car, and crawled in, and, like the insect entering the pitcher plant, could not crawl out.

This frame in question is hollow, and completely empty but how this might appeal to a cat remains unexplained.

The only way the animal could go was forward, and when it arrived at the turn in the cross member frame it had to follow straight ahead. There was no room to turn around. At this point the cross member slants downward towards the center across the back. At this spot the cat was stuck.

Well, what to do in a predicament of this kind, bearing in mind all the time that a cat has nine guaranteed lives, but does not want to spend all nine of them in the housing of an automobile.

The pictures partially tell the story. Figure No. 1, taken by Mrs. Charles Hostert, shows where they made use of a cutting torch to cut an opening after locating the kitten.

Figure No. 2, which was taken by Mrs. Margaret Semmler, shows Barney Hostert, one of the garage owners, pulling the cat out by the tail, and at the same time he was pulling it out, in order to make the cat back up, Harold Cooper had made an opening in the center of the cross bar and had inserted a wire. The cat was unable to get a foothold, and could not turn around, so in order to assist Barney, Harold made use of the wire, urging the cat to fight backward, so they could get it out.

When, after three anxious and perspiring hours, the three people engaged in liberating this trapped cat had just about accomplished their mission of mercy, they got a box, with a convenient lid to clamp on it, for this cat in its present state must be considered dangerous. It was half mad with the heat of the torch, and fright. And, Harold's wire had helped, too.

When the kitten—three months old—finally landed in the box, with the cover on it for temporary safe keeping, there was a sigh of relief all around.

Those who helped rescue this cat were Barney Hostert and his son, Charles, who is a mechanic at the Municipal airport, and Harold Cooper.

When puss had quieted down, Schuldt took it home, and it ran furiously all over the place, evidently enjoying its new freedom. Today it is very much alive in spite of its harrowing experience in the housing of a motor car.

WILL COUNTY
TEAM BEATS
IOWA CHAMPS

Two ball games played over the week end at Manhattan wrestled from the Benton county squad, Iowa champs, the interstate Farm Bureau crown for the Will county Farm Bureau baseball team, Illinois champion.

Glen Honsbruch, of Peotone, hurled for Will county. He gave the Iowa team two hits, while he fanned 15 batters.

Benton was still ahead in the eighth inning—2 to 1—but Will county tied the score when, with two outs and the bases loaded, the Benton third baseman erred, allowing the tying run to score. A bunt made by Don Ellis won the game for Will county.

In the second game of the series, Bob McEville assured victory for Will county by hurling two hit ball and getting two hits.

In a third game that went only five innings, Will county won, 1 to 0.

STEAL BUTTER
FROM TRUCK
NEAR FRANKF'T

Thieves were busy near Frankfort last Friday night, and made a haul of some 1,600 pounds of butter. They broke into a refrigerated truck being driven from Grand Island, Neb. to New York City by Joseph Mogis, of 4302 Emerald Ave.

Mogis had parked the truck on the highway shoulder, about two miles east of route 45, on route 30, while he went for some sleep at the Lincoln Estates Tourist Court. He parked the truck on the highway, Mogis explained, because of high tension wires that were too low for big semi-trailer trucks to clear inside the motel grounds.

In addition to the stolen butter a suitcase containing clothing was taken from the cab. The thieves may have been aided in their work by a blinding rainstorm at the time, which would have obscured their activities to passing motorists.

As this was an interstate shipment, agents of the FBI have been asked to enter the case.

Grade Baseball Team Loses to Mokena Nine

On Tuesday afternoon, September 18, the Orland Park grade school baseball team played host to the boys from Mokena. The nine from Mokena proved a little too big and experienced for the boys from Orland and took the long end of a score which tallied 16 to 4. The contest was held on the local diamond before a small crowd.

The light and inexperienced Orland lads played good baseball, discovered some of their mistakes, and showed considerable promise. Mr. Jerling, the coach, hopes to strengthen weak points before the next game which will probably be played with St. Michael's Parochial school of Orland Park. The boys urge parents and visitors to attend these most interesting clashes for the next month.

That hour you lost last April will be regained at midnight Saturday, when we revert to standard time, abandoning daylight saving time which has been in effect during the summer months.

The regular meeting of the post will be held this evening September 27 starting promptly at 8 o'clock.

The next meeting of the Women's Auxiliary will be Thursday, October 4 at 8 p. m.

(CNS)—So that all the people and communities concerned can have time to study the case, Examiner Louis Lebin of the Illinois Commerce Commission Thursday continued to October 10 a petition by the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad for authority to drop five trains and to consolidate 18 others into only nine trains.

Railroad attorney M. L. Cassell petitioned the ICC for the authority to drop the 14 trains on August 13, and Thursday's hearings were the first held. Luther Swanstrom, attorney for the Ridge Civic council, appeared and filed an intervening period. The council objects to the proposed abandonment of the 14 runs.

Representatives who appeared at the hearing included Francis A. Dunn, Joliet city attorney; Edward J. Kelly, Chicago assistant corporation counsel; L. E. Orosborough, 11417 Marmosa, who represents a group of commuters; Walter F. Briody, Midlothian village attorney; Paul R. Schreiber, Blue Island city attorney; Clarence D. Stallman, Joliet township high school Board of Education district 204 attorney; five men from the railroad brotherhoods: Lawrence Kohl, representing a group of Mokena high school students; E. H. Frost, Joliet township high school Board of Education attorney; and Alderman David McKiernan of Chicago's 19th ward.

Attorney Cassell said that the railroad had decided on the "adjustment" reluctantly. He pointed out that since 1947 there has been no adjustment despite a $3,000,000 yearly passenger loss. The railroad spokesman also mentioned the loss of mail carrying contracts by area railroads to trucks and the general deficit in suburban train operations.

Added expenses will be felt as the Rock Island turns to the use of diesel engines for commuter service and more, Attorney Cassell said. The line plans on having its entire suburban service diesel-equipped by 1952.

Cassell testified that the Rock Island line selected those runs with the highest losses for elimination, and those runs with the slightest "pinch" for consolidation. He said that the railroad is willing to adjust its plans for train cuts through agreements with groups concerned with Rock Island service.

Alderman McKiernan told the hearing that his office has been deluged with complaints about Rock Island service during the last two weeks, and that complaints about the service have been voiced by 19th ward residents for over two years.

The Joliet representatives and Kohl, after discussion with Cassell at the hearings, won readjustment of one of the proposed cuts. Kohl had fought for the retention of one run which he said was depended on by students at Mokena. Attorney Cassell agreed to the idea that another run could be consolidated rather than the one which the students used.

As now scheduled, the October 10 hearings will be held at 10 a. m. on the 19th floor of the state of Illinois building, at 160 North LaSalle street, Chicago. ICC hearings are open to the public.

This barn dance is being sponsored by the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Catholic church, in Mokena, and is being given for the benefit of St. Mary's parochial school in Mokena, where 80 pupils are enrolled.

A cordial invitation is extended to everybody.

COW WANTED

(CNS)—The high price of milk caught up with the County Board recently and Commissioner Frank Bobrytzke quipped, "I move that we buy a cow."

New contracts which up the cost of milk for Cook county institutions about 3 cents a quart were approved by board members. No one seconded Bobrytzke's motion which broke a clerk's monotonous calling of the bids.

Low-bidder dairies winning contracts for four county institutions are the Borden, Bowman, Capital and Western-United Milk plants. The institutions are the Audy Juvenile Home, County hospital, Oak Forest infirmary, and County jail. The dairies hiked their price to around 18 cents a quart, blaming higher labor costs.

The county has been buying milk on the open market since Sept. 1 when the last three-month contracts expired. Its total dairy bill this year is expected to be about $100,000 above last year's bill of $200,000.

County institutions down about 1,386 gallons of milk each day, as well as large amounts of other milk products such as cottage cheese, buttermilk, cream, and enzylac, a pre-digested milk.

Last year China produced 40 million tons of coal to more than double the 1949 output, but there are four states in this country which did better.

Motor Club Opposes Hauling Explosives On Public Highways

Inside Motor club Yzucm Chas. M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club, has warned against the exorbitant use of public highways for the transportation of high explosives. "Each year almost 3,000 persons are killed in automobile accidents in Illinois and Indiana," Hayes said. "United public action is doing its utmost to stem this tide of fatalities. Why should we permit additional hazards to be rained upon motorists by granting permanent franchises which would enable interstate common motor carriers to haul explosives in an unlimited number of their vehicles on public highways?" On Monday, September 17 in the Palmer House, the Interstate Commerce Commission began a series of hearings at which a number of applications by motor carriers to transport explosives will be considered.

Hayes emphasized that the inherently dangerous character of explosives requires that the Commission deny the use of public highways in interstate commerce for the transportation of such commodities.

Only if clear proof of real need for the movement of explosives and clear proof that no other means of transportation less hazardous to the general public is available should the Commission permit the widespread use of explosive-laden vehicles on public highways, Hayes emphasized.

The granting of these applications which are pending would expose not only motorists but occupants of dwellings on public highways and streets as well to unnecessary hazards the Motor Club president predicted.

Press Curb in Advertising Control

A threat to one of our basic freedoms is seen in the continuing attempts of the administration to control the press and radio. The most recent evidence of this determination was the approval, by the senate banking committee, of an administration-sponsored bill which would give dictatorial powers over advertising.

The committee voted 9 to 4 to give the President authority to determine what would be a reasonable allowance for advertising, in establishing price ceilings for any product.

Up to this time the most formidable obstacle in the path of this control has been the Capehart amendment, introduced by Senator Capehart (R. Ind.). This amendment has blocked the administration time and again, over a period of years, to control freedom of the press through the control of advertising, but a revision of this amendment is now under consideration. In asking the repeal of this amendment, Mr. Truman has referred to it as "terrible."

Another threat to a free press was seen at the 74th annual meeting of the American Bar association, held in New York recently, where an attempt was made to put over resolutions which approved a United Nations convention governing American newsmen in foreign countries. The matter was held over to the ABA's meeting in Chicago, which is scheduled for some time in February.

The New York Daily News, in an editorial calling attention to the dangers inherent in the proposition, said:

"The proposed international agreement goes on to say that news dispatches should be censored in peace time only as to matters involving 'national defense.' It also contains a clause stating that the press everywhere is obligated to 'promote' world peace and other worthy things.

"Obviously the phrase 'national defense' could be stretched to almost any degree by bureaucrats and censors intent on keeping straight, unbiased news reports from getting beyond their borders.

"And the press' prime obligation, in the American and British view as maintained for generations, is to report what goes on. It is not obligated to 'promote' anything, no matter how worthy, and should be wary of doing so, because promotion can so easily lead to slanting or omitting facts."

Morning worship 11:00 a.m.

Evening service 8:00 p.m.
Mid-week service 8:00 p.m.

On Sunday, at Calvary Baptist church the pastor will speak on the subject "Who Is This Jesus?" at the 11 a.m. service.

At the 8 p.m. meeting the pastor's topic will be "Life Endures." This will be the first of a series of Sunday evening sermons.

To all who have no church home, to the stranger seeking solace, and to those who are troubled and seek comfort, the doors of Calvary Baptist are open. We bid you come and join us in worship and to partake of the joys of Christian fellowship and service.

The regular Wednesday family Bible hour takes place at 8 p.m. and family groups are cordially invited. In noting this, it is called to your attention that midweek family worship has the multiple effect of keeping the group united; of bringing the power of prayer and worship home to the young folks, and that the net result will be a marked reduction in shattered homes and juvenile delinquency.

Thursdays at 7 p.m. the senior young people meet for fellowship prayer and praise. A varied program makes these meetings a weekly event that you too will enjoy. Come and join us!

The Christian Followers meet Sunday at 6:30 p.m. This group includes all from 9 years up to the senior age.

Saturday, this week the young people are having a weiner roast with the Rev. Kerr as guest of honor. Plans now are to hold the party in the open, but in case the weather bureau fails to co-operate, the "Roast"-ing will take place—with modifications—in the church.

Sunday, Sept. 23, marked the closing day of week-long revival services at Calvary Baptist. The Rev. Donald Forbes was the speaker. His vibrant and inspiring messages during the week resulted in a number of conversions and had a profound effect on his listeners.

Attendance for the week totaled about 400 and was climaxed by the Sunday School Rally day record-breaking total of 102.

At the morning service the newly formed choir sang. While it is yet in the formative stage, the choir holds great promise for the future.

The Rev. and Mrs. Stuart Brightwell, who so ably served the church in the pastor's absence, sang two beautiful numbers at the evening service.

Cooking Capers

For a tasty, economical picnic treat... put 1 1/2 pounds of spare-ribs in a shallow dish, add a 3-ounce bottle of soy sauce, 1/2 cup pineapple juice, ground ginger and 3 chopped garlic cloves. Let stand several hours, turning ribs frequently... then grill ribs over an outdoor fireplace. Serve with roast corn.

When you fry foods, tape a piece of newspaper to the wall behind your stove to catch sputtering fats. Use cellophane tape for easy removing without marks.

Lettuce, ears of corn, strawberries and other fresh vegetables and fruits in your refrigerator will stay fresh many days longer if you keep them sealed in moisture-proof Sylvania Cellophane... the kind your grocer uses.

That mist that forms inside the cellophane means the moisture is being held inside the package. Save summer stove-hours by boiling a week's supply of potatoes. Keep them in their jackets, and pop them into a moistureproof cellophane bag to be chopped into potato salad, browned, or fried as you need them.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Senate Small Business Committee is investigating the newsprint situation that threatens the existence of approximately 10,000 weekly and independent daily newspapers.

A strange apathy exists in official circles toward the existence of these independent newspapers.

Newsprint prices have more than doubled in the past 11 years.

Bureaucrats also want to raise the postal rates on newspapers.

But despite a reported newsprint shortage, strange things occur.

Marshall Plan continues to give millions of dollars worth of paper to foreign countries.

The general public should take action to protect the independent newspapers for the general welfare. The problem is far bigger than the welfare of the relatively few publishers.

Let these independent papers perish, and the entire national communication system is under the control of the bureaucrats.

There are many solutions to the problem.

One step would be for the government to curtail its propaganda activities. As revealed by the committee, the Federal government today uses 7 per cent of total newsprint supply while 10,000 independent newspapers use only 2 per cent.

Government acted fast on tin and rubber. Both of these commodities have become in greater supply and for less cost than just a few months ago.

©National Federation of Independent Business

But then, some big corporations were interested in both tin and rubber.

Part of the apathy in Washington on the newsprint situation is the feeling among many bureaucrats that the independent publisher is a pretty unreliable sort of a person.

He is so independent, he separates the facts from the propaganda, and facts are things that bureaucrats don't like published.

They feel operators of radio and television stations are much more reliable.

For example, right now, the nation's television stations are giving thousands upon thousands of dollars worth of time to running a propaganda film "The Marshall Plan in Action." It's called a public service feature.

It's probably the first time in history that a gun held to anyone's head has been called public service.

Radio and TV stations are at the mercy of the Federal Communications Commission.

Theoretically these stations are required to furnish equal time free to people who would like to point out that Marshall Plan is spending American tax dollars for such items as printing tourist guides for European travel and for a host of other activities.

But "public service" as interpreted by the bureaucrats, is a one way street.

That's why independent newspaper publishers are considered unreliable in Washington. They print the truth as they see it.

It is a safe bet that if newspapers would consent to government licensing, ways and means would be found to provide them newsprint.

"Just Been Thinkin'"

Time and again I have come to find a hidden beauty by watching those things which light the eyes of a youngster. A child can find a world of wonder in a goldfish bowl, a genuine thrill out of uprooting a red radish, a heartfelt pleasure from hearing a baby coo. A child can cherish love and forgiveness through any adversity, and a child's problems with its friends always melt in the flame of these two qualities. To me it is perennially strange how a tot knows where to look for beautiful things which its parents have long since lost sight of.

- THE OLD HORSE
He was a shabby-looking gray; His stumbling steps and bulging knees Seemed painful till he passed beneath The shady pity of the trees.

My daughter noticed him one day And, fond of creatures as she was, She looked with awe into his eyes And saw the warmth a youngster does.

She could not know the years he spent In serfdom to his master's cart, But in her innocence she found A simple beauty for her heart. I saw the mottled, thinning coat, The tattered tail, the bony thighs But she exclaimed "I love that horse!"

For she looked only—in his eyes! —Frank H. Keith

20-Acre Farm Cannot Earn a Living

Making a living on a 20-acre farm is like swimming upstream. You might do it on a highly intensified poultry, bee, or truck farm with good direct outlet to consumers. But it would be hard.

That's how J. B. Cunningham, farm tenancy specialist in the Illinois College of Agriculture, answered the question of a Sangamon county woman who inquired how to make a living on a 20-acre farm.

Successful farming in central and northern Illinois usually takes about $40,000 investment per full-time worker.

Another person wanted to buy a small, diversified, family-type farm for $500 to $1,000 cash for land. Cunningham pointed out to this Cook county writer that Illinois farm land values now have reached an all-time high. They stand at 195 percent of the 1912-14 level. Choice Illinois farms are now priced upward from $500 an acre.

June Sales Tax Paid By Local Village

Inside June sales tax cyec (CNS)—Cook county firms paid $8,729,265 in July for liability under the 2 per cent sales tax, according to Illinois state revenue director Clifford E. Halpin.

Combined collections from all counties and out of state receipts were $16,463,548. The collections represent returns for sales made during the month of June.

In Chicago, 52,544 taxpayers paid $7,311,054.23. Among the other 105 Cook county municipalities, the number of taxpayers and the tax receipts collected were: Blue Island, 359, $44,533.93; Harvey, 380, $48,708.41; Hazel Crest, 27, $1,699.67; Homewood, 91, $16,414.86; Matteson, 25, $1,555.73; Midlothian, 36, $5,574.13; Oak Forest, 25, $1,742.50; Orland Park, 36, $2,827.49; Robbins, 31, $1,263.09; Tinley Park, 61, $7,655.88; Worth, 54, $4,765.43; Markham, 20, $1,325.62; 20, $1,325.62.

In Cook county as a whole, 63,794 tax payers made returns during July, Halpin said.

In DeKalb county, 806 firms paid $80,861.72; in DuPage county, 1831 paid $211,692.65; in Kane county, 2267 paid $317,428.81; in Lake county, Ill., 2190 paid $209,723.69, and in Will county, 2095 taxpayers turned over $242,367.58.

The air raid spotter and those manning military radar screens flash warnings of approaching planes by telephone.

Telephone reports are quickly charted at Filter Centers. Then Air Force interceptor planes are alerted by telephone. Rescue and relief work, too, are directed by telephone.

This is but one type of the many special telephone networks serving government and military forces to help protect our nation.

The telephone system was built to serve America in peace. But it is just as ready to serve in any emergency.

The value of this nationwide telephone network as a 'secret weapon' of defense was never greater than it is today. It must be kept strong. It is vital to a strong America.

SOLDIER, MARINE, BACK—

Russian made material was being used by the enemy.

Those were days of horror and cold, living with the constant uncertainty of immediate death. Landahl was blown out of fox holes several times by near mortar hits, and suffered a great deal from frost bite during the severe Korean winter.

The Chinese usually attacked at night, shouting "Banzai, Banzai", like so many devils. They had no fear whatever of death, for, really they had nothing whatever to live for beyond their daily portion of rice. Chinese foot soldiers were given a three day allowance of rice, which was full of maggots, and they were hopped up with heroin for three days before attacking. After that, they didn't seem to care one way or the other. Our boys killed them so fast that, at times, their bodies were used as ballast to fill holes in the highway made by enemy mortar fire. Bull dozers would then come along and cover them over with mountain dirt.

Sgt. Landahl says there is hardly a family in South Korea that has not suffered the loss of some near relative. There is hardly a building standing at Yalta, made famous by the Roosevelt meeting with Josef Stalin, in the closing years of his life. Nor has anything been left standing in Seoul. When asked where these people are now living who were driven from these and other cities Landahl said: "mostly in hillside caves."

Sgt. Landahl served for a long time under General MacArthur, and expressed the greatest admiration for him. He said that this administration is largely shared by the boys in Korea, and intensively shared by the people of Japan, for whom MacArthur did so much in the way of bringing a real civilization to that benighted island. He said that MacArthur is revered somewhat as a god in Japan, much the same as Hirohito was, and that it is generally accepted that he did more for Japan in the space of a few short years than Hirohito did during his entire reign as emperor.

Sgt. Landahl arrived in San Diego August 28th, and was given a medical discharge September 9. He had acquired some stomach ailment because of the deficient Korean diet, but looks in the pink of health right now. He arrived in Mokena, September 17, where he joined his parents and three brothers. One of his brothers, Paul, is a pupil at Mokena public school. Richard lives in Tinley Park, and George in Long Island, New York.

Landahl will resume his studies at Fenger high school, where he has already put in three years. He will attend night school there, and will take up three major studies at Fenger, and one major He has four credits to make up, study at the YMCA on Saturdays. He plans to make a future of creative writing.

After an hour's interview with Sgt. Landahl one other thing was revealed, in addition to the facts here set forth. His harrowing experiences in war-torn Korea have done him no harm, inasmuch as he escaped death and serious injury. He was sustained through out by a philosophy of life which stood him in good stead then, and which can be counted upon to stand him in good stead now. Sgt. Landahl needs no courses in reorientation. He is already well adjusted.

Meet on Family Farm Policy Review In Beecher, Joliet

The Will County Agricultural Mobilization Committee, with Mr. Conrad Borms, of PMA, chairman, held two meetings September 5 on the Family Farm Policy review. The afternoon meeting was at Beecher with 17 present and the evening meeting in Joliet with 23 farmers present.

Mr. Borms introduced representatives from the PMA, FFA, SCS and Extension Service Farm Advisor who gave a brief report of the services they have to offer farmers in Will county. The Agricultural Mobilization Committee met September 18 to formulate the following report in accordance with Agricultural Mobilization Letter-18. The following members were present:

Conrad Borms, PMA chairman; Lloyd C. Smith, PMA vice chairman; Adam F. Heisner, PMA member; Harlow Nicholson, SCS Director; Max Kuster, Voc. Ag. Teacher; G. Wayne Churchill, Extension Service, Farm Advisor; Vincent Brandow, Farmers Home Administration; Homer Kuder, SCS Conservationist.

It was recommended that the following agencies be retained and continued on present basis:

ARA; BAE; CES; SCS; PMA—with the exception of allotments and quotas which should be eliminated or abolished. The recommended changes would be the certain per cent of the farm in legumes and grasses; also to use funds available as a payment to those doing a sound and good job rather than those doing a poor job of conservation.

It was recommended that the FCA and PCA be continued, but combined as one unit. Both were originated by the same group, and should be one single unit.

Revoke Licenses Of Seven Taverns

CNS—County board president William N. Erickson is expected to announce by the end of this week the fate of seven taverns whose liquor licenses he has revoked. Owners of the taverns were forced to close their doors August 11 when Erickson "ripped up" their licenses, after Sheriff John Babb reported his deputies found gambling devices in the places. Five were put out of business for having slot machines.

One owner said he was afraid to protest when two men made him take a slot machine. Another said he feared harm would come to his family if he didn't keep the machine going.

Included were taverns in the townships of Orland, Bremen, Lemont, Blue Island, and other nearby townships.

Appeal hearings on the liquor license revocations were completed last week before A. L. Hornick, assistant to Erickson, who also is ex officio liquor commissioner.

National Newspaper Week, Oct. 1st-8th

National Newspaper Week will be observed October 1-8, 1951.

In a world rocked by widespread abuses of liberty, the press—still free—stands out as a beacon light.

Teachers and ministers can be of great assistance in giving National Newspaper Week the publicity it needs and deserves. It will make an excellent topic for discussion, and offers wonderful sermon material, because freedom of the press and freedom of religion are so intimately related. Business men and others should be interested, too, in fact, everybody who reads the newspapers, for "your newspaper lights the way to freedom."

PTA Members Given Real Koffee Klatch

Several ladies that served with Mrs. Herschel Patterson who was chairman of the decorating committee for the Circus dance given last year by the PTA, were invited to her home on Route 45 last Thursday afternoon at a one o'clock Koffee Klatch.

They were pleasantly surprised to find that it was quite different from anything they had ever attended before, as it was carried out in the traditional Danish fashion. The coffee started with a cordial, with which the hostess greeted them and was followed by beautiful decorated Danish pastries and coffee.

After the serving of the refreshments a social afternoon was enjoyed by all.
